NDP fields Art Field for a fourth time

by Jerry Grozelle

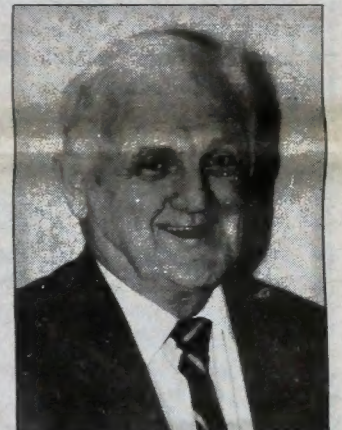

Art Field is hoping the fourth time will be the charm.

Field will be representing the New Democratic Party in the upcoming Victoria-Haliburton riding by-election. This will be his fourth attempt to gain a seat in Queen's Park.

The local NDP riding association held its nomination meeting at the Lindsay Library on January 31. Field was acclaimed, since he was the only one to throw his hat in the ring.

Field, a retired General Motors employee of 34 years, is the owner-operator of the Dugout Sports Bar in Little Britain. He, and wife Aileen, have lived in Little Britain for the past 35 years.

A sports-minded individual, Field is a member of the management committee of the Little Britain Community Centre and president of the Little Britain Junior C hockey team.

Art Field acclaimed by NDP

Field told the audience of about 60 party faithful that he was proud of the NDP's record since it took power three and a half years ago.

"Given the political unrest that pervades this country at this time, some may see this as a foolhardy statement," Field said. "I, obviously do not. I am proud of the accomplishments of our government in their efforts to bring fiscal and social responsibility to our province."

"It is easy for the opposition to criticize, but before we get into the campaign rhetoric that will be heard during the election period, perhaps the opposition parties should look in a mirror."

Field stated that during the 1990 election, the Liberals told everyone the province had a surplus of funds.

"But soon after the election we found out that David Peterson had misled us," Field said. "In fact, the province had a deficit of hundreds of millions of dollars."

"Bob Rae and the New Democrats however, had the courage to proceed in these difficult times to bring about action that will allow this province to recover economically and not saddle our children and grandchildren with the debt of previously irresponsible government spending."

Field says he'll be the first to admit that some of the NDP actions were unpopular.

"As a retired trade unionist, I was not pleased that the government found it necessary to intervene into the collective bargaining process," he admitted. "But as a small business person who has seen his business suffer during this economic downturn, I saw the need for provincial government action to prevent further erosion of

All together again

After six years of separation, Minden's elementary school students are all back together under one roof. The Archie Stouffer Elementary School annex (former IGA) was emptied out last week as the kindergarten and grade one classes were moved into the new classrooms at the main school. The grade 2, 3 and 4 classes were also moved into the school from their portable classrooms. Here, senior students lend a hand with the unpacking. Alison Marsh, right, and Lisa Reinwald help grade 3 teacher Liz Bloomfield and teacher's assistant Mary McKelvey to sort through the boxes and supplies.

Election call expected soon

Now that the New Democrats have chosen their candidate, it is widely anticipated that Premier Bob Rae will soon call the by-election for Victoria-Haliburton.

A provincial by-election is necessary to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of former MPP Dennis Drainville. Drainville resigned in September in order to run as a candidate in the federal election.

The NDP selected their candidate last Monday, rounding out the field to three. Art Field, a businessman from Little Britain was acclaimed to the candidacy. This will be Field's fourth run at the provincial seat. He is a former autoworker, who now owns the Dugout Sports Bar in Little Britain.

The Conservatives were the first to choose a candidate for this by-election. They voted in former Haliburton County Warden Chris Hodgson as their candidate at a nomination meeting in November. Hodgson is the Reeve of Dysart Township and a Haliburton realtor.

The Liberals are fielding former Victoria County Warden Sharon McCrae. The candidate has 15 years of experience in municipal politics as councillor, Deputy-Reeve and Reeve of Ops Township. She also served two terms as county warden.

Winterfest is ready to roll

Yet another weekend of winter fun is in the offing for the county.

As if the sled dog races and Minden Winter Carnival weren't enough to brush off the chill of this cold season, a group of volunteers in Haliburton is tying up the loose ends in preparation for another exciting event on Head Lake.

The first Haliburton Winterfest is scheduled for this Friday, Saturday and Sunday with an impressive line-up of activities to keep the crowds busy.

Winterfest organizer Les Feero says this event is building on last year's highly-successful Sno-fest with the aim of turning it into an annual happening.

Sno-fest drew almost 7,000 snowmobilers to its activities on Lake Kashagawigamog last year. Because of the size and timing of this event, Haliburton's winter carnival was put on ice while local efforts went into the organization of this one-time event.

Feero said Sno-fest showed great potential for this sort of event to become an annual thing. With this in mind, he teamed up with the Haliburton BIA and the Haliburton County Snowmobile Association to organize the first Winterfest. And except for the iffy conditions on Head Lake, Feero said everything is coming together well.

Last week's snowfall was enough to push a bit of water up above the ice, making for slushy conditions. By last Thursday, the organizers were scrambling, trying to come up with some way to improve conditions before this Friday.

"We'll pull it off," Feero said with confidence. And even if the slush can't be conquered, Feero says there will be a variety of other events to keep participants active throughout Saturday.

"I'm really looking forward to this," he said. "I'm optimistic that people know what's going on and they'll be out for the fun. There's a lot of enthusiasm all around."

Scheduled activities begin at 6 p.m. on Friday with the opening ceremonies, torch-light parade, bonfire and cook-out near town. On Saturday, the fun begins at 7 a.m. with a pancake breakfast at the Haliburton Legion. Other activities going on throughout the day include a snowmobile poker run, radar runs and an ice fishing derby. In the evening there will be dances at the legion and the PineStone Resort.

For more details on the activities, pick up an events listing at retail outlets throughout the region.

Minden seeks training officer for building department

The Municipality of Anson, Hindon and Minden is looking for someone with municipal administration experience.

The municipality is advertising for someone whose qualifications will allow him or her to train current staff to replace former Chief Building Official and By-Law Enforcement Officer Elaine McCrae.

McCrae decided to go back to school to take the courses necessary so she can pursue her long-time dream of a career in interior design and decorating.

"At this stage of my life I figured it was time for a change," she said. "It (the decision to change careers) has nothing to do with the municipality. The municipality has been good to me."

She has worked for the municipality for seven years.

The job opening is a six-month position.

Doug Schell, the current assistant By-Law Enforcement Officer and Building Inspector will be taking on increased responsibility.

Agricultural Society prepares for another active season

The Minden Agricultural Society, sponsor of the Haliburton County Fall Fair, held its annual general meeting recently and elected a new executive for the coming year. The meeting was held at the Minden United Church and included a report on the past year's activities.

Tech program aims for broader audience

In an effort to boost enrolment in technical programs, Haliburton Highlands Secondary School will be moving to a "broad-based" system.

Beginning next year, it will be mandatory for all grade nine students to be enrolled in the new technological program for one semester. In addition, the board hopes to revamp the entire program and will apply for a ministry grant to offset the estimated $175,000 cost for equipment and training.

Enrolment in the technology programs has traditionally failed to attract female and university-bound students, the board's Education Committee heard last Tuesday. Of the 160 grade nine students coming to the school next year, it is estimated that only about 60 would opt for these programs, and 59 of those would be boys.

Part of the problem is the stigma attached to these programs, said Dale Robinson, Superintendent of Schools. Students are often intimidated by the machinery in the shop, he said.

Because of this, the majority of students are closing the doors on certain careers before they even reach high school.

"We have to break the stigma that it's dirty and it's for people who don't do well elsewhere," He said people are dealing with technology every day, and without some grounding they're often stumped by it. The often overwhelming challenge of programming a VCR is an example of how technology can get the best of us, said Robinson.

'We have to break the stigma that it's dirty and it's for people who don't do well elsewhere.'

Robinson said the new technology program, which has been embraced by the Ministry of Education, helps break the stigma and encourages more students to continue studies in the technological field.

An outline of the new program was presented to the board's education committee last Tuesday by Robinson, HHSS principal Gary Brohman and two teachers. Traditionally, technology programs offered at high schools have been specific in nature — auto shop, machine shop, drafting, etc. The new broad-based program increases the scope of the instruction. All subjects will be combined into four categories: Manufacturing Technology, Communications Technology, Design and Technology and Transportation Technology. The instruction will be a hands-on nature in which students undertake a project to be completed within the semester.

Ideally, the school requires $175,000 to outfit the new labs.

Robinson presented the committee with a "wish list" of equipment for the program and asked for permission to apply for ministry funding. Up to 44 per cent of the cost of these purchases may be provided by the ministry.

Robinson said it is unlikely that the ministry will agree to share in the funding of the entire package. Regardless, he said the board will be introducing the program this year.

Archie Dobbins, who was at the meeting on behalf of the Taxpayers coalition, suggested that the board should advertise the list of equipment needs. He said it is likely that some of the equipment would be donated by area businesses and residents. "I've got about $8,000 worth of equipment that I'd like to donate," he added.

Chris Hodgson Working Hard to Get Victoria-Haliburton Working!

Chris Hodgson wants to serve you. Chris will:

- Get People Back to Work
- Cut Government Waste
- Hold the Line on Taxes

Chris Hodgson is already working hard for you:

When Chris first ran for municipal office he promised three things...

Keep taxes down. He did that. Despite an enormous shortfall of revenue and higher welfare demands on the local tax dollar.

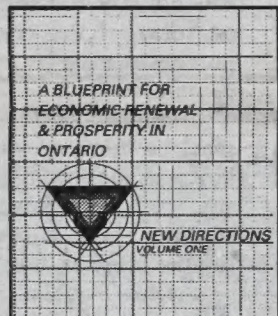

Take the secrecy out of the budget process. He did that. Now both Dysart and the County have open and public meetings on the budget.

Improve infrastructure. He did that. Chris has worked in co-operation with municipal councillors, staff and committee members to improve the roads, sewage plant and hospitals.

Chris is proud to have helped get local government back on the right track. With your support he will do that for us at the provincial level.

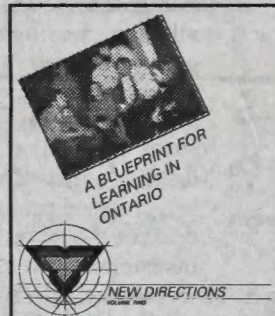

Chris Hodgson and Mike Harris: A hard working combination...

In November of 1991 Mike Harris published his first plan for the getting the economy back on track. Since then...through Task Forces and public hearings....by phone, FAX and mail...tens of thousands of Ontarians have had their concerns and ideas included in policy decisions. For your free copy of Mike Harris' plans call 1-800-665-MIKE.

New Directions Vol. I

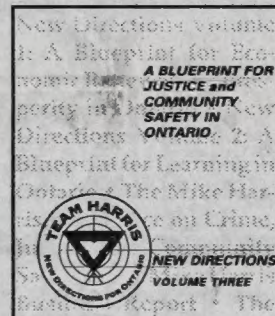

This plan addresses Ontario's economic problems and details PC Leader Mike Harris' proposals for developing comprehensive economic strategies and for bringing jobs back to Ontario. It was first published in the Fall of '91 and is currently being updated.

New Directions Vol. II

For those teachers, parents, students and concerned citizens who feel that Ontario's education system needs to be revamped, this plan is for you! In it we called for:

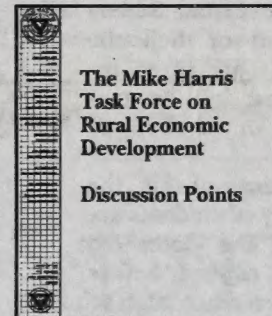

- an end to duplication between publicly funded school systems
- a core curriculum to teach students what they need for today's jobs
- testable standards for each grade level
- making excellence the goal for teachers and students

New Directions Vol. III

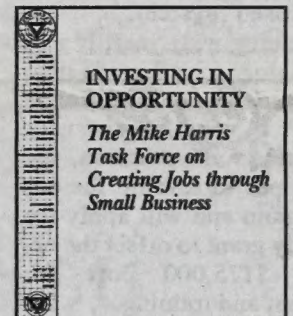

We launched the Crime, Justice & Community Safety Task Force in January '93. By travelling Ontario to hold public hearings, and by distributing discussion materials, we have been able to prompt public response. The results were published in Volume III in January '94. In it we called for:

- tougher treatment of convicted criminals
- more support and compassion for victims of crime
- greater priority and support for police
- renewed emphasis on personal and parental responsibility

New Directions Discussion Paper

We held the first Task Force on Rural Economic Development in August of '93. So far, we've heard from people in Essex, Sparta, Simcoe, Delhi, Woodstock, Tillsonburg, Eastwood, Haliburton, and Lindsay. We will spend a year visiting towns and looking for new opportunities. Then we'll publish the results.

New Directions Discussion Paper

Despite creating 80% of our jobs, small business in Ontario is being strangled by taxes and paper. Mike Harris said "enough" and launched The Task Force on Creating Jobs through Small Business this fall. The results will be published in 1994.

On January 23 the Minden OPP detachment recovered a stolen snowmobile from the open water under Head Lake bridge by Haliburton Highlands Secondary School. The incident occurred at about 8 p.m. that Sunday evening. Police know that there were two snowmobiles there at the time, running the open water. The machine that went in the water had been stolen the previous week. The driver was able to get out and was picked up by two males in a waiting vehicle. Police also know that there were other snowmobilers there watching, and are looking for anyone who may have witnessed the incident.

If you have any information about this or any other crime, call Lindsay Crimestoppers at 1-800-563-8477.

NDP candidate blasts opposition power to the economic engine that runs this country."

The Conservatives came under fire for creating huge bureaucracies in government over their 42 years in power. Field speculated that if Mike Harris were in power, there would be as many as 40,000 people unemployed and that there would have been unacceptable service cuts without any debate on the subject.

Lyn McLeod and the Liberals, according to Field, were quick to find fault with the NDP's job creation program.

"But now the federal Liberals have embarked on a program of their own," he says. "Well, job creation seems to be okay. Even though she has decided job creation is now a popular issue, she is more concerned with bringing a basketball team to Toronto."

"She claims a basketball team would be good for the province. True, it would be good for some people, especially her former boss, David Peterson, one of the owners of the franchise. She hasn't yet, however, explained how a basketball team in Toronto will help Lindsay or Little Britain or Haliburton."

Field says that although the Social Contract has been unpopular with some, it is an attempt to negotiate an agreement with the public sector to save as many jobs as possible; to maintain as many public services as possible; and to allow the government to channel as much money as it can into job creation.

"It was a difficult exercise," he said. "But hindsight, I believe, will show it was the proper decision."

Field's list of NDP accomplishments included job creation, guarantees on farm mortgages, a progressive Labour Relations Act, the anti-scab law, cuts in small business tax rates and universally accessible health care, among others.

Elmer Buchanan, Minister of Agriculture and Food and MPP for Hastings-Peterborough, was the guest speaker for the evening.

Buchanan said Ontario has been a winner on the jobs front, creating 24,000 more jobs than have been lost since the NDP took power. Buchanan went on to cite several policies and programs, which have been instituted by his government, that he is particularly proud of.

The auto insurance bill, the introduction of the minimum corporate tax bill, child care reforms, the continuing increase in the minimum wage and the Social Contract are among the NDP's accomplishments that he says people will look back on and realize were necessary.

Regarding the Social Contract, Buchanan said: "We took the bull by the horns and did some things that weren't too popular with a lot of people. But we felt they had to be done on behalf of all of the people of this province."

He said the NDP government is helping to create "co-operation and partnership across the economy." He condemned previous governments for "neglecting rural Ontario", while praising the NDP for contributing to women's initiatives, working towards education reform and a fair tax system.

The people present for Field's nomination proved they were willing to put their money where their mouths were. Mike Breaugh took the floor and made a pitch for donations, starting off by asking those present to donate $100 to Field's election campaign. Breaugh worked with the finesse of an experienced auctioneer, finally stating that the party would take pocket change if it would help the cause.

At the end of the evening it was announced that $2,820 had been pledged in support of the goal to elect Art Field as the MPP for the Victoria-Haliburton riding.

'It was a difficult exercise, but hindsight, I believe, will show it was the proper decision.'

Zero would be nice!

by Ron Mackenzie
for Phil Graham

Zero would be wonderful, minus 39 was a nightmare. This month has set more records than the Olympic games. Last month I indicated that we had four days when the temperature dipped below -18C (0F). Well, this month we had 22 days of these chilling temps. Ten of these were colder than -30C. Now let's get back to those four days. We had only four days this month when the mercury poked its head above the freezing mark compared to eight days last year when Jack Frost just loved it.

I have heard so many stories about flooded cars, frozen pipes and cracked foundations from frost damage, I'm sure it must be yet another record.

We now have about 46 cm (18 in) of snow on the ground, depending where you are, slightly less than this time last year when we had 69 cm (27 in). This may explain why the frost has been wreaking havoc. And of course the icing on the cake was the rain on the 28th giving us a half inch crust of glaze that covered just about everything. We can be thankful that it didn't accumulate on the trees and wires or there might have been a lot more damage.

Phil, I think that's a good place to be right now.

Blowing smoke

All the talk about MP's new freedoms under a new Liberal government appear to be going up in smoke.

As part of their war on tobacco smuggling the federal government is preparing to lower taxes on cigarettes. The government will insist that its MPs vote for the tax measure, regardless of their concerns over the risk of promoting smoking with cheaper cigarettes.

The high cost of cigarettes is an effective deterrent to young people who might consider starting smoking. While the tax cuts will hamper the smuggling trade, it will also foster tobacco addictions, health problems and deaths. For this reason, many people are opposed to the tax cut.

We'd encourage you to write your MP to oppose this move, but what's the point? The wishes and needs of constituents, it seems, are not as important as those of the government.

This is just another example of government working in reverse. The aggravation of this upside-down system is enough incentive to get people smoking.

Moving In

As some of you know, the remainder of the student body of Archie Stouffer Elementary School moved into the expanded facilities last week.

We hope everyone takes the opportunity to come out and see the bright new school that the students are now enjoying.

The completion of this project marks the end of several years of inconvenience for staff and students in temporary accommodations.

Thanks for all the hard work and patience from trustees, administration and staff for bringing this project to a successful completion.

Costly education system an ineffective disaster

Editor,

A.L. Kulmala-Hughes' letter to The Times stating that every dollar spent on the education of our children, our future, is a dollar well spent only goes to show some people haven't caught up with the economic reality of the 90s. The free-spending ways of the "I want it so you pay for it" society has finally floundered in the bankrupt 90s.

Tax money should not be frivolously spent on programs that people cannot afford and that do not yield concrete, necessary results. The Canadian education system is a disaster that costs too much, contains too much clutter and fails at educating students in the basics and preparing them for the future. Things need to get simpler, not more complicated. Haliburton County should be happy with a board that, unlike Victoria County, appears to be listening to common sense and not throwing money around while paying lip service to taxpayers.

The prospect of a $4,000 property tax increase scuttled plans I had to expand my business here in Kinmount. And if the residents of Haliburton County want jobs, killing off business with high taxes is not the way to go.

A simple solution to this problem would require that no government agency could increase spending by more than the rate of inflation without a vote of approval from all the taxpayers.

This could easily be dealt with during routine elections.

At a budget meeting of the Victoria County Board of Education, I asked teachers and parents wearing buttons that read "Our Children, Our Future" the following question. Teachers, would you take pay cuts to preserve programs without tax increase? Parents who want questionable programs of dubious merit and non essential services, would you fund your child's involvement 100 per cent? Not one person raised a hand to agree. A little personal involvement can sure bring financial restraint to the forefront in a hurry.

Board should follow Metro's lead

Editor

In a recent edition of your paper, I recall mention of a Board of Education meeting where it was stated that it was disappointing that only a few people were present and that people must be satisfied with the performance of elected trustees.

May I suggest that you really should not be so optimistic. If the trustees were to match the zero tax increase agreed to by the Metro Toronto School Board, then I think they would have done a reasonably good job.

Literacy program benefits from generosity

Editor,

The Haliburton Highlands Literacy Program would like to publicly acknowledge the generosity of Dr. Harry Good for his support of literacy training in Haliburton County. The use of space in his building for a Literacy Centre and the provision of larger office space for our program will provide an opportunity for the program to expand and continue its work in a more vital and interesting way.

At this time we would also like to thank Jane Selbie of the Employment Centre for the office space she has provided here for the last three years. Her continued interest in Haliburton Highlands Literacy Program and the people of Haliburton County is truly commendable.

With the continued support of our tutors and other interested local people is truly commendable.

With the continued support of our tutors and other interested local people and groups, our program will be able to continue to serve the literacy needs of this county in the coming years.

To all our friends, a hearty thank you.

Builder still has questions

Editor,

Re: A letter to Lutterworth Council (January 31). I want to thank the editor for his note, but it did not answer my question.

During my 20 years in the construction business, the insurance company had the last say in the amount they would pay but did not decide which contractor would get the job. If I buy a policy, it is mine to spend as I please. If otherwise, my next policy would be with another company.

I think the Lutterworth taxpayers deserve a better explanation. As for leaving the money in the county, if the county is paying the council's wages, so be it. But if council's wages come from my tax dollars, I want it left in the township.

Final Frontier misses mark

Editor,

Having just read the article under "The Final Frontier" in the current issue of The Times, it occurs quite possibly there is a "Reflection" which David Suzuki has completely overlooked in his presentation of nature worship in what he defines as "Shinto - Japan's traditional religion."

It must surely be true that no wise man can be indifferent to his future state, he ought to be anxious to know where and what will be his final home. A wise man has said, "the living know that they shall die." We all know it, we have seen so many others die, we know that this is the lot of mankind and sooner or later we all must go. Surely no one of intelligence entertains the idea of the ex-tingtion of personality by death. Instinctively we feel that we must survive, we must continue under different conditions, that there must be some relation to the life beyond this, a continuity of existence, a perpetuation of personality. The Hindu asks, "what after that?" Surely any sane man should pause to consider whether there be anyone to answer this question.

On this subject, important though it is, all voices are silent, save one and He claims to have exclusive monopoly on knowledge of the future. That was and is true. If we learn not from Him, who is the Way, the Truth and the Life, we learn not at all. On the ground of personal knowledge no man can say anything save the One who has been there and returned - who came to bring Life and immortality to light through the Gospel. (2Tim. 1-10) Jesus Christ has knowledge of both worlds. He came from Heaven to this world. He lived our life with us. He died our death for us and He rose again. In Resurrection body he met many followers and showed to them what life beyond the grave was and thus we don't have to go into the darkness not knowing.

Long ago it was that man Job who asked the question on many hearts, "If a man dies, shall he live again?" Jesus came to answer that question, "Yes he may die - but he will live again."

Canadian identity is buried in fluff

It came to me, as my grandest thoughts often do, while I was out walking the dog.

There we were, Rufus and I, on the prowl for an unsuspecting fire hydrant - a task made infinitely more difficult by the fact that it is mid winter in Canada, and all self respecting fire hydrants were buried up to their lugnuts in a deep futon of the white stuff. Anyway, there we were, scrambling over snowbanks looking for bare spots, trying to tip toe in the footsteps left by the mailman... when suddenly a magnificent realization dawned on me.

"I know what makes us Canadian!" I shouted to Rufus, the rooftops and a passing chickadee.

"It's snow."

Hmm.

I see you're about as impressed as Rufus and the chickadee were. Well, hold on now... let me explain.

The greybeards say that one difference between Canadians and Americans is that the Yanks revere freedom and as little government as possible, while Canadians go for peace and as much government as it takes to keep things orderly.

Well doncha see? That the clear illustration of just how snow influences the way we Canucks think.

Sure. Snow is just like government. It blankets everything, gets down your neck, makes it hard to get anywhere and generally snarls up the works.

After a big blizzard, life in Canada comes to a standstill. Nothing can move until platoons of snowplows and shovellers get out and clear the roads and sidewalks.

Same thing with government. Except the part of the snow removers is played by the lawyers and politicians.

And as any Canuck worth his earmuffs knows - snow's not all bad. We can't

Snow is like government. It around and snarls up the works

by Arthur Black

discern it from our snow shoes or our cross country skis but there's an entire nether world bustling around under that white blanket, just above the rock-hard earth. Mice and voles and moles are bustling around like pre-Christmas shoppers. They have their own underground malls down there, safe from hawks and coyotes not to mention the frigid air above. It works for plants too. A few shovel's worth of snow banked around my rose bushes guarantee they'll make it through the winter. Same thing for strawberries and slumbering garlic bulbs. Snow is Nature's way of giving our earth its own set of thermal Stanfields to see it through to spring.

Our pioneers saw the bright side of a hard winter.

"A year of snow makes apples grow," they used to say. I can remember my Dad looking out at a driveway full of snow and saying, "Doesn't matter how much it snows, it won't be here come summer."

The other great thing about our snow is that it camouflages our unfinished business. Somewhere in my backyard there lies a baseball bat, a couple of croquet mallets, an ugly jumble of wooden stakes lately plucked from my garden, a garden bench with a wonky leg, a half a bag of barbecue briquets, a horseshoe pitch, three (maybe even four) rusty horseshoes, several half gnawed dog bones and uncountable unsolicited deposits from the aforementioned Rufus.

All of that junk and more adorns my backyard, but you'd never know it. Look out my back window and all you see is a pristine sheet of unlined foolscap.

A Canadian writer, Frederick Philip Grove, once wrote "The slightest snow will bury our eyesores. Snow is the greatest equalizer in Nature."

You said it F.P. I could go on for a few more column millimetres about snow, but I'm past my deadline. I have to get this column over to the paper. Which means I have to dig out my driveway. Which means I have to dig out my front walk to get to the driveway. Which means...

Well, you know how it works.

I mean, we're Canadian, eh?

THANK YOU!

Atom A Monarchs advance with win over Sunderland

Minden to meet Ops in the next round
by Jerry Grozelle

The Minden atom A Monarchs advanced to the second round of OMHA playoffs with a 4-0 victory over Sunderland Tuesday evening in Minden.

Mitch Johnson kept the opposition off the scoreboard to earn the shutout in the Monarchs' net.

Mark Mattsson scored what proved to be the winning goal a minute and a half into the second period on a setup from Joshua Shaw.

Twenty seconds into the third frame, Rich Kinsman converted a Shaw pass for the second Minden marker.

Then, at the 5:34 mark, Gaten Davis added goal number three to the Minden total, from Jarrett Rowden.

Dan Nielsen added insult to injury, scoring the fourth goal for the Monarchs with 27 seconds left in the game. Rowden and Trevor Woods assisted.

Tuesday's win gave the local boys a two games to one series victory over their rivals from Sunderland.

The Monarchs took the lead in the series with a 5-1 victory in the first game.

Shaw paced the attack in that game, scoring twice and adding a pair of assists. Kinsman notched two goals and Danny Nielsen added a single. Mattsson and Rowden each picked up an assist.

Sunderland evened the series at one apiece by edging Minden 2-1 in the second game.

Ashley Pettes scored the lone Minden goal in that game, from Davis.

The Monarchs will meet Ops in the next round, starting tonight at the Ops Arena. Game two of that best-of-three series is slated for Tuesday in Minden at 7:00 p.m. The third game, if necessary, will be back at Ops on Sunday, February 13.

Going for it: Minden forward Josh Shaw (number 8) tries to stuff the puck in the net past Sunderland netminder Scott Riseborough in Tuesday's atom playoff game in Minden. The Monarchs took the series with the 4-0 win and go on to meet Ops in the next round.

Jason Stamp and Jeff Howe combined to set up Ivan Ingram for KDD's first goal. Howe tied the game at two apiece with Scott Danilko and Ingram assisting. Stamp notched the game winner, from Howe and Ingram.

There was only one penalty in the first period. Paul Walker of The Times got the gate for tripping. Three players did time in the sin bin in the second half. KDD's Ivan Ingram served three minutes for tripping while teammate John Fedeski took a roughing penalty.

Joel Cox of The Times

Making the save: Justin Rowden of the Minden bantam A team blocks a Bobcaygeon shot during the first game of the playoff series. The Monarchs won this game, but Bobcaygeon rebounded for a 2-0 win to even the series two nights later.

Bobcaygeon bantams even series with game two win over Monarchs

by Jerry Grozelle

The Minden Monarchs bantam A hockey team took a 1-0 lead in their first game of the best of five bantam E playoffs at home against Bobcaygeon Tuesday night.

Darren Mills was flying for the Monarchs, scoring two goals during one of his best efforts of the season. Coincidentally, he was celebrating his 15th birthday that day.

Tom Bagshaw also contributed a pair of goals to Minden's 4-1 win. Sheamus Donnery set up both of Bagshaw's goals while Dennis Woods drew an assist on one of the Mills markers.

Scott Keir was the only Bobcaygeon marksman to put one past Justin Rowden in the Minden net. Shawn Mahoney assisted.

Bagshaw opened the scoring for Minden midway through the first period and Mills added both of his goals in the second for a 3-0 Minden lead going into the third.

Bagshaw made it 4-0 early in the third and Rowden was 2:35 away from recording a shutout when Keir got the lone Bobcaygeon goal.

The Monarchs met Bobcaygeon twice during the regular season, winning both times.

Minden was playing without three regulars.

Monarchs coach Dan Mills said his squad played one of its best team efforts of the season.

Game two of the series, played in Bobcaygeon Thursday night, saw the home team even the odds by blanking the Monarchs 2-0.

The third game of the best of five series was played Sunday in Minden. Details of that game and the rest of the series will be printed in next week's paper.

Men's Hockey League

spent double time in the penalty box, both minors.

Gord Wood was the only Stamp player to get the gate, a three-minute sentence for body contact.

Westside 3, Home 2

Game three was a close one, with Westside Jug City edging Home Hardware 3-2.

Tom Haley scored the only marker of the first period, an unassisted goal to give Westside the 1-0 advantage.

Doug Allison notched two in a row in the second half to put Home

Hardware in front 2-1. Boomer Stamp assisted on both goals while Dave Dollo and Trent Elias helped to set up one each.

Dave Pettes scored the tying goal for Westside, from Paul Mayo and Tom Haley.

The winning tally was scored by Mayo, with Greg Metcalf and Pettes setting him up.

Haley, Metcalf and Mike Keany each made one trip to the sin bin for Westside while Allison got the only Home penalty.

Redmen ready for return to ice

Two games left in regular season

by Jerry Grozelle

The Haliburton Redmen hockey team will be back in action this week after a two-week layoff because of exams.

The Redmen will travel to Peterborough to take on the Adam Scott squad tomorrow (Tuesday) afternoon.

The next day, they will play host to the I.E. Weldon Wildcats at 8:00 p.m.

The game against Weldon could be an important one. The Wildcats are nipping at the Redmen's heels in the standings.

Wednesday's game will be the last of the regular season for HHSS.

Haliburton coach Ron Yake says if his team wins both of this week's games, it could finish second or third in the overall standings of the 12-team High School Hockey League.

The Redmen are assured of a playoff berth because of their overall standings, even if they get bumped out of the top two in their division. The top two teams in each of the three divisions will play off and the two teams with the best record that aren't among the top two in their respective divisions will tangle in a wildcard series.

Haliburton's division includes Weldon, LCVI and FFSS.

'Peewees gave 100 per cent' coach Shaw

by Jerry Grozelle

The season ended with a heartbreaking loss in the deciding game of the OMHA playoffs for the Minden Monarchs peewee A team.

The Minden boys went to Woodville for game five of the series last Tuesday night with hopes of advancing to the next round against Manvers.

Things looked bright for the Monarchs when they tied the score at 3-3 in the third period. But penalties proved to be their downfall.

Woodville capitalized on the man advantage, scoring two unanswered markers to win the game 5-3 and take the series three games to two.

Corey Casey, Chris Nielsen and Ryan Anderson were the snipers for Minden in the final game.

Minden coach Brian Shaw commended the Woodville boys for their effort.

"They really played hard," Shaw said, adding that Woodville pulled out all the stops, playing their best players almost exclusively for the last game.

"I was a little disappointed that we didn't go a little farther in the playoffs," Shaw admitted. "Our guys gave it 100 per cent."

"Overall, we had a decent season. We won more games than we lost. We have a great bunch of kids. They showed excellent sportsmanship."

Shaw singled out one of his players as the best in the league.

"I'd say Ashley Walker is the best peewee goaltender in the league, certainly in this area," Shaw said.

The Minden boys played three great games to take the tournament's top honours.

The first game they played was no contest as they blanked LeFroy 16-0.

Jamie Colliss and Nicholas Mitchell each scored four goals and added two assists. Andy Kinsman added three goals and an assist to Minden's tally while Jordan Campbell and Ben Carpenter had two goals and one assist each. Evan Kernohan scored one goal and assisted on two others.

Mark Snell earned the shutout between the Minden pipes.

MVP honours for the game went to Ben Carpenter.

Game two was against Creemore, with Minden coming out on top by a 6-2 score.

After end to end action in the first period, the game remained scoreless.

Early in the second, Campbell broke the barrier, with a great setup from Stephen Johnson. Kinsman made it 2-0 when Colliss sent him a dandy pass.

Nicholas Mitchell took a breakaway pass from Kinsman to put the game out of Creemore's reach.

The third frame saw Creemore tally one, but Kinsman added two more to the Minden score, with assists going to Greg Vanderlip, Lance Aggett and Matt Mattsson.

Colliss rounded out the scoring, with Justin Walker helping the cause with some great defensive work.

Goaltender Mark Snell played an outstanding game, frustrating the Creemore offense on numerous chances.

With that second win it was on to meet Huntsville for the A championship.

The Minden boys outplayed Huntsville throughout the game but Huntsville's goaltending kept them at bay.

Huntsville took a 1-0 lead late in the second period, but the local boys didn't give up.

Their persistence finally paid off with 43 seconds left in the third period. Evan Kernohan sent Mitchell a pass just over the blueline and Mitchell made it count, sending the game into overtime.

Five minutes of sudden death overtime still failed to decide a winner so the game would be decided by a shootout.

Each team picked three players to face the opposing goaltender. Shooters from each team took their turns against the opposing goalie at the same time.

Jordan Campbell, Jamie Colliss and Nicholas Mitchell were chosen as the Minden shooters, with Mark Snell defending the Minden net.

Campbell scored for the local squad but the other two missed on their opportunities. Snell stopped the first two Huntsville snipers but the third got the puck by him to continue the deadlock.

Three more Minden sharpshooters, Evan Kernohan, Ben Carpenter and Greg Vanderlip, were chosen. Kernohan and Carpenter beat the Huntsville goalie while Snell stonewalled the opposition to give Minden the victory.

Jordan Campbell was the MVP for Minden in the championship game.

The Novice A players, coaches and parents send out their appreciation to Francis Thomas for sponsoring the team's participation in the Port Carling Tournament.

Snow-A-Rama raises $13,000

More than $13,000 was raised for handicapped children at this year's Haliburton Rotary Club Snow-A-Rama.

This snowmobile run has been held annually since the mid-1970s, when famed wrestler Whipper Billy Watson was involved.

This year 60 riders took part, travelling an average of 75-100 kilometres each at the Haliburton Forest and Wildlife Reserve.

Once again, Haliburton's Jerry Walker raised the most in pledges with $2,150 worth. Del Taylor of Beaverton had the second highest amount with more than $1,800.

Conditions for sledding at the reserve were good, despite the rain that the area had 36 hours earlier.

Event chairman Doug Devolin expressed his thanks to all of the people who took part, to those who helped to organize the Snow-A-Rama and to Sid Stamp Fuels for donating fuel for the riders.

Rolly Letourneau was the co-chairman of this year's event.

Fish farmers call on ministry for changes

I recently had the opportunity to accompany three representatives from the aquaculture industry when they met with Ontario's Minister of Agriculture and Food, Elmer Buchanan, at his office in Marmora.

Karl-Heinz Dickob, owner of the Kinmount Fish Farm, was the spokesman for the group, which included Jim Taylor, owner of Linwood Acres Fish Farm in Campbellcroft and John McLennan, who has a private pond at Dorset.

Originally scheduled for half an hour of the busy minister's time, the group spent twice that time explaining some of its concerns. Buchanan was sympathetic to the frustrations and inconsistencies fish farmers encounter.

Dickob presented several ideas that he felt would potentially improve the situation for everyone involved in or who could benefit from the aquaculture industry.

The minister pointed out that he had locked horns with the Ministry of Natural Resources before regarding the aquaculture industry.

"Basically, the MNR hid behind the disease factor," Buchanan said. "They try to make it a health and safety issue."

Taylor refuted that claim by saying that fish raised at his facility, and others like it, are less likely to have diseases than fish raised in ministry hatcheries.

"The private hatchery system is far better at producing disease-free fish," he said.

He explained that the fish farmer's livelihood depends on the quality of fish he produces.

Dickob pointed out that the disease factor isn't as important as the MNR would like Buchanan to believe. "Government hatcheries want brood stock that will reproduce naturally in the wild," Dickob told Buchanan. "They take their brood stock from natural lakes where diseases already exist."

Buchanan was informed of the greater potential for survival of fish raised in ponds (a natural environment) as opposed to those reared in tanks.

TWO-TIER LICENSING

Dickob would like to see a two-tier licensing system — one licence for aquaculture operations that raise fish for food and the other licence for operations that produce fish for stocking. That would ensure that only qualified people could raise fish going into our natural waters and that fish raised for stocking would be of the highest quality possible.

Frustrations with the Game and Fish Act are also plentiful.

Currently, only rainbow and brook trout can be raised for human consumption.

With those restrictions in place, this province is missing a multi-million dollar opportunity. For example, Dickob told Buchanan that 120 tonnes of carp are imported from the United States to Toronto every week to satisfy the demand of some ethnic communities.

Channel catfish and walleye are also imported, both of which could be produced here — if amendments to the Game and Fish Act were enacted to allow the raising of those species.

Imagine the jobs that could be created by the millions of dollars that would be kept in Ontario if these fish were raised at private hatcheries here.

Similarly, fish stocking opportunities are being missed because of antiquated regulations.

Only rainbow and brook trout, smallmouth and largemouth bass are allowed to be raised by private hatcheries for stocking.

No private hatcheries are licensed to raise walleyes, Ontario's most popular game fish. A few have scientific licenses for experimental purposes, but they aren't allowed to stock these fish into the province's lakes and rivers.

Citing the attempt to get walleyes stocked into Sturgeon decide to go ahead with stocking in the Kawarthas?"

One fish farmer in Ontario has developed technology to raise walleyes but has been forced to dump them because he isn't allowed to sell them.

COMMITTEE

Dickob would like to see a committee formed with representatives from the MNR, MAF, Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters, Northern Ontario Tourist Association, Native Canadians, aquaculturists (from both food producers and stocking operations), tourist associations and a number of other user groups.

Ideally, according to Dickob, the committee would meet each month and the ministers of natural resources and agriculture should attend at least every six months (preferably quarterly) so they would have a feel for how the committee is operating. He said the interaction between these groups would ensure that every angle is covered and all points of view are expressed.

Buchanan was receptive to the idea of such a committee, as long as it wasn't "stacked" by any one group.

INFORMATION

Another thing Dickob is pushing for is funding from all concerned ministries to establish a newspaper or newsletter which could address the concerns of everyone who has an interest in fish — from the ministries responsible, to the recreational angler and everyone in between.

Such a paper could be a vehicle for governments and aquaculturists alike to inform everyone concerned of new developments in technology and as an exchange of information between government agencies, fish producers, the end users and everyone who benefits from the fishery.

Buchanan seemed interested in what the group had to say and agreed that some changes are necessary. He asked for some written information so he will have ammunition when he next discusses the subject with Natural Resources Minister Howard Hampton.

Dickob and his companions presented some interesting

Beavers put to work on joint project near Dorset

Beavers will soon be working with staff from Ducks Unlimited and the Minden Ministry of Natural Resources to improve wetland habitat in Sherborne Township.

Staff from these two offices have signed a beaver pond management agreement, which is one of several major habitat programs being delivered jointly under the North American Waterfowl Management Plan in Ontario.

Beaver ponds provide important habitat for moose, ducks, otter and other wetland wildlife. New beaver ponds are very productive and provide the most value to the wildlife that live in and around them. However, over time the beaver literally eat themselves out of house and home and must move to other areas where they build their dams and create new ponds. The old, abandoned ponds eventually stagnate, which reduces their value to wildlife.

The type of management work carried out on individual ponds will depend on the "age" of the pond. On younger ponds that still have active beaver colonies, duck nesting boxes will be installed to compliment natural sites.

"The key to nest boxes being successful is the predator guard which prevents raccoons and other animals from preying on the eggs," said Dave West, Area Manager for the Barrie office of Ducks Unlimited Canada.

Older, abandoned ponds will be rejuvenated by establishing poplar food plots and regenerating wetland vegetation in hopes of attracting beavers back to the area.

The first stage of the program will begin late this winter when nest boxes will be installed on poles placed through the ice.

Local trappers and members of the Haliburton Highlands Outdoors Association will be installing the nest boxes. The boxes will be monitored for nesting success each year.

"Long term monitoring of nesting success and habitat improvement are very important parts of the program," said Dave Hamlin, Area Technician for the ministry.

Additional areas of Crown land are being looked at to possibly expand the beaver pond management program in the future.

ideas and proposals. It remains to be seen whether they will be instituted.

The power struggle between government agencies that has been evident in the past will have to be replaced by co-operation. Only then will there be hope of making strides in the direction of a better aquaculture industry and a better recreational fishery.

Dickob says he would be interested in comments regarding his proposals. He can be reached at Kinmount Fish Farm, P.O. Box 29, Kinmount, Ontario, K0M 2A0.

For Your Information

Snowbirds can write off insurance

Snowbirds who spend extended periods outside Canada can claim their medical insurance cost when filing their 1993 tax returns.

Premiums for private insurance are a deductible medical expense, as are medical costs not covered by insurance during your time outside Canada. The deduction appears on line 330 of the T1 General Tax Return.

You may only claim expenses above three per cent of your net income or $1,614, whichever is less. But you may choose a 12-month period, including part of the previous year, when your expenses were greatest. Also the spouse with the lower income may claim the deduction.

Premiums for travel health insurance could be claimed every second year to maximize the medical tax credit. Just time your purchases less than 365 days apart. For further information, call Revenue Canada toll free at 1-800-267-8030.

The Haliburton County information Centre will assist seniors, low-income families and the disabled with their returns free of charge.

The Haliburton office is open weekdays from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The Minden office is open Tuesdays.

'Awesome' group turns community green at weekend workshops

The Haliburton Environmental Network (HEN) and Totally Awesome Inc. will be sponsoring community workshops on the theme of Greening Our Community, this weekend.

The workshops as well as a pot luck dinner and kitchen table working session will take place on Saturday at Senitt Puppets in Carnarvon.

A public meeting will take place at Evergreen 3000 in Haliburton (next to Highland Glass).

HEN is a Haliburton County based environmental information network. It can be accessed through Debbie Hilkers at Evergreen 3000.

Totally Awesome Inc. is a local environmental group as well. The contacts are Bailey Renshaw and Carole Yawney.

The purpose of the weekend's activities is to bring people from different walks of life together to share ideas about restoring communities on a self-sustaining basis that links people, the economy and the environment.

Members of the Toronto based Coalition for a Green Economic Recovery (who describe themselves as a network of green entrepreneurs, community based businesses and politically homeless activists) will be attending the pot luck dinner to meet local people and exchange ideas.

Sunday's meeting at Evergreen 3000 will feature a number of people who will share their experiences on such subjects as waste reduction issues, Local Exchange Trading System, aquatic pods for restoring PH balance in lakes and the art of creating your own green jobs locally.

For further information on the events scheduled for this weekend, contact Debbie Hilkers at 457-9655, Bailey Renshaw at 489-3307 or Carole Yawney at 489-4422.

Heartbeat on the slopes

The hearts of ski enthusiasts will be going pitter pat this Saturday as they take to the hills at Sir Sams to raise money for the Heart and Stroke Foundation.

A full day of free skiing is in store for anyone who can collect more than $35 in pledges for the foundation. To top it off, participants will be eligible for an assortment of prizes, which have been donated by local artisans. A free lunch will also be served.

Event organizer Janet O'Neil said the day of skiing has proven to be very popular with participants. Last year's day on the hills raised more than $4,000 for the foundation.

Pledge sheets are available at the IGA in Minden and Haliburton or at Sir Sams. For more information, contact O'Neil at 457-2364.

OLD GROWTH TO MATCHSTICKS

This won't blow over

Canada is a major focus of international criticism over the unsustainable logging of its old growth forests. Environmentalists have made names familiar across the country — South Moresby, Temagami, Carmanah and, most recently, Clayoquot.

Some accuse British Columbia of being the Brazil of the North while others focus on the fate of Alberta's boreal forest. In the acrimonious debate that has raged over the future of forests here and in other parts of the world, the disputants are often arguing from radically different positions that seem irreconcilable.

What is desperately needed is perspective. In the middle of any heated argument, it is important to pull back in order to look at the situation in a different way, trying to extricate oneself from the immediate physical and temporal surroundings. It's not easy.

I never believed my parents when they responded to some teenaged crisis by telling me "This will blow over" or "It's not that important" or "You'll get over it." But they were always right.

Normally, we become too emotionally involved in an issue to escape our own beliefs and values that limit the way we see it. Thus, most people alive today were born after the Second World War, a very brief, yet unprecedented period of explosive growth.

So we think the social, economic and ecological change that we've witnessed is normal and it's difficult to disentangle ourselves enough to see this fleeting moment with any kind of perspective.

In saving the forests: What will it take? (World Paper 117, December 1993), there is a passage that provides a stunning vista that must be considered in the debate over the future of the Earth's remaining forests. So I received permission from author Alan Thein Durning to quote

forests are being irrevocably lost in the geological blink of an eye*

Reflections

by David Suzuki

the following section:

"Imagine a time-lapse film of the Earth taken from space. Play back the last 10,000 years sped up so that a millennium passes by every minute. For more than seven of the 10 minutes, the screen displays what looks like a still photograph: the blue planet Earth, its lands swathed in an mantle of trees. Forests cover 34 per cent of the land. Aside from the occasional flash of a wildfire, none of the natural changes in the forest coat are perceptible. The Agricultural Revolution that transforms human existence in the film's first minute is invisible.

"After seven and a half minutes, the lands around Athens and the tiny islands of the Aegean Sea lose their forest. This is the flowering of classical Greece. Little else changes. At nine minutes — 1,000 years ago — the mantle grows threadbare in scattered parts of Europe, Central America, China and India. Then, 12 seconds from the end, two centuries ago, the thinning spreads, leaving parts of Europe and China bare. Six seconds from the end, one century ago, eastern North America is deforested. This is the Industrial Revolution. Little else appears to have changed. Forests cover 32 per cent of the land.

"In the last three seconds — after 1950 — the change accelerates explosively. Vast tracts of forest vanish from Japan, the Phillipines, and the mainland of Southeast Asia, from most of Central America and the horn of Africa, from western North America and Eastern South America, from the Indian subcontinent and sub-Saharan Africa. Fires rage in the Amazon basin where they never did before, set by ranchers and peasants. Central Europe's forests die, poisoned by the air and rain. Southeast Asia resembles a dog with mange. Malaysian Borneo appears shaved. In the final fractions of a second, the clearing spreads to Siberia and the Canadian north. Forests disappear so suddenly from so many places that it looks like a plague of locusts has descended on the planet.

"The film freezes on the last frame. Trees cover 26 per cent of the land. Three-fourths of the original forest area still bears some tree cover. But just 12 per cent of the Earth's surface — one-third of the initial total — consists of intact forest ecosystems. The rest holds biologically impoverished stands of commercial timber and fragmented regrowth. This is the present: A globe profoundly altered by the workings — or failings — of the human economy."

Seen this way, the planet's forests are being irrevocably lost in the geological blink of an eye. Plotted over a mere 10 millennia, the curve of forest devastation leaps almost straight off the page in our lifetime. And if we add to that graph the generation of pollution, loss of topsoil, human numbers, production of greenhouse gases, and so on, the curves all climb vertically in the very last moments. Individual disasters like Chernobyl, large clearcuts, Bhopal, mega-dams or oil spills are merely part of a terrifying spasm of annihilation.

Hyland Crest Auxiliary seeks new members

How do you like winter? I've sure had enough.

Saturday afternoon John Menzies braved the cold and came to play his beautiful piano music for us. We thank him sincerely.

Sunday, faithful Estella Burch came and read another chapter in the book she is reading to us. We thank you and appreciate you coming, once again.

Rev. John Burgess took the Sunday night Chapel service and Louise Leonard played the organ. We thank John and Louise from our hearts.

Monday the Hyland Crest Home Auxiliary organized a pot luck luncheon in the auditorium to which the residents and their families and friends were invited. If possible family members brought a favourite dish. A table down the centre of the auditorium was well laden. The luncheon was given as a way to recruit new auxiliary members.

The auxiliary does so many things for the benefit of all the residents and the community. The members they have, manage to do everything necessary, but with more members it would be less of a load for each member. Everyone appeared to enjoy their lunch and have a happy time together.

Tuesday Pastor Murray took the morning chapel service. The residents enjoyed the service and thank Pastor Murray. At 2 p.m. crafts were made in the craft room, led by Margaret and Pearl Cowen. There was also euchre in the dining room in the evening for us.

The auxiliary does so much for the residents, but the load would be reduced with more members.

Senior League

by Winnifred Barnum

Dottie Muirhead came Wednesday to read the news in the two local papers. This will be the last time for two months as she is leaving Saturday for Florida. We have appreciated her reading the news to us so we have an idea of what is happening in the area. Pearl Cowen and her volunteers were here for games with us in the afternoon. They were Jeanne Sears, Freda Hulbig, and Mary Wilson. We had three tables of euchre and one table of croquignole. Thanks to the ladies who so cheerfully helped us.

Thursday, Carol Martin showed Corinne Bonneville and I how to clean the greenware for ceramics. It is a new project we are trying and Carol is our teacher.

In the meantime, the Haliburton Legion ladies came to provide and serve a delicious tea and a beautiful cake for those who had birthdays in January; May Horsley, Norma Davies, Alice Todd, Lilian Harrison and Len Hamilton.

The Haliburton ladies were Kay Wylie, Ann Schell,

Iris Fieldhouse and Sheila Milne. Lucile Clarke (a resident) played a few selection on the piano for us. We appreciate your kindness very much and thank you all.

In the evening Kathy Wood called bingo for us in the dining room. Thanks Kathy.

Linda Fry has been in Lindsay most of the week. Due to the ice storm Friday, everything planned was cancelled. We had a discussion in the auditorium in the afternoon.

Our sincere sympathies to the family and friends of Ken Campbell. A memorial service will be held in the chapel on February 15.

We have two new residents, Mary Forbes and Ken Anderson. We hope they will be happy here and welcome them sincerely.

Love Is

The giving of yourself to those who have not, for the best in life you know cannot always be bought. To show someone you care and that they're not forgot, is to give up willingly many things that you've got.

The things that I'm speaking of are things you cannot buy, and one is a cheerful greeting and do not pass me by, and one is a smiling face and a twinkle in your eye. You can be my friend and not even have to try.

It is nice to have someone on whom you can depend. One who will listen and understand surely is a true friend. So if you have some thoughts and lots of love to lend, give up some precious time and be faithful to the end.

So this is my idea of what true love is, for to buy me with your money would not even fizz. So please find a little corner somewhere in your heart, and I will promise you that we will never part.

Monks make Golden Rule 10th year running

Gordon A. Monk Funeral Home Ltd in Minden is moving into its 10th year of recognition by the international Order of the Golden Rule (IOGR)

The trade association announced last week that the funeral home has again qualified for this distinguished honour.

IOGR is a non-profit organization formed in 1928 to identify outstanding funeral firms. The underlying principle of IOGR is responding to the personal funeral service needs of families everywhere.

More than 1,400 respected funeral homes spanning the U.S., Canada and abroad are members of the association.

Members base professional service on the Golden Rule, "Do unto others as you would have others do unto you."

In order to be a member of the Golden Rule, Gordon A. Monk Funeral Home had to receive community recommendations, pass strict professional standards of service and earn 100 per cent approval by IOGR's Board of Directors.

"Gordon A. Monk Funeral Home Ltd. has demonstrated the Golden Rule philosophy in every way it has served its community," IOGR Executive Director Dale L. Rollings said. "This is truly an outstanding firm and we are proud to have them as a member of IOGR."

Softwood stumpage fees rise

Stumpage fees will be higher for conifers over the next three months.

The Ministry of Natural Resources says the increase is entirely due to the higher prices for softwood lumber.

Stumpage fees for other categories of wood will drop, the ministry says.

The increase in fees for conifers is due to the high market price for lumber. The final calculated stumpage fee for softwood timber or conifer destined for a pulp mill increased to $6.15 from $5.85. For softwood lumber going to any other type of mill, the new fee is $7.08, up from $6.01.

Around the County Town

by Jeanne Sears (call 286-1538)

We are pleased to report that the community spirit is alive and thriving in our area. The Turners, who were burned out of their home several weeks ago on Boshkung Lake, report they were overwhelmed by the offers of assistance from the community. The family, which operates Foster's General Store, has moved into the Don and Edith Burch residence, just across the highway. The Burches are currently in Florida.

The Minden Library Committee will meet at the Library on Wednesday, February 9 at 7:30 p.m.

Winners from Club 35 euchre games held February 1 included Ray Brown with most lone hands, Pearl Kernohan and George Hewitt, high lady and man and Helen Lee, Bill Kleinschmidt and Bill Cowen. The 50-50 draw went to George Hewitt and a special award was presented to Hal Burton.

Quite a long list of people who are on the sick list. Good wishes to Eleanor and Ralph Young, Marie Reynolds, Ruby Cartwright, Eric Stearns, Lil Martin, Cliff and Muriel Green, Wayne Taylor, Wes and Horrie Baker and Lil Mann.

Grenville Schrader of Oakville visited relatives and friends in Gelert recently.

We just heard that Irene Moore's grandson Jeff Moore, a volunteer with the U.N. Forces, has been posted to Bosnia. Our prayers go with you and your mates in this effort toward making peace.

We are very happy to report that May Hicks is home from St. Joseph's Hospital in Peterborough after spending some four months there.

Usual Tuesday evening euchre games were held at the Lochlin Centre with a good crowd enjoying a lunch and chat. Next games there will be held Tuesday, February 15 at 7:30 p.m.

The winner of the monthly draw at Kinmount Legion Branch 441 was Jim Hockley of Kinmount who won $93.50.

Sincere sympathy to the families and friends of the late Boyd Austin (Kinmount), Violet Deumo, Pearl Foster and Ruby Cooper.

Stanhope bridge club winners from February 1 included Brian Adamson, Lindsay Adamson and Lyle Lucas. These games are held each week at 1 o'clock and no partners are needed. They really do have a good time.

The Senior Games are slated for March 7 and there will be table shuffleboard, bingo, checkers, bridge, cribbage and euchre as well as the Deer Race. The games will be held at Deer Lodge and forms are available at the Minden IDA and the two drug stores in Haliburton.

We heard that crocus plants will be on sale at the Bank of Montreal on Haliburton on Friday, February 11 to raise funds for the CNIB.

Winners at the January 27 Legion Branch 636 Minden euchre games included Verna McDonald and Bill Menard with most lone hands, Ida Yonge and Jean Scadden with high scores, Bill Todd, Truman McNeil, Orval Francis and Judith Merritt.

Some of us seniors have joined the Stanhope Club and are really enjoying the luncheons and shuffleboard, bridge and bid euchre. The Minden Legion also has a Seniors group with many events and card games going on. Sometimes it appears to newcomers there is just a bit too much going on.

Don't forget the Spaghetti Dinner at Our Lady of Fatima Church on February 19 at 5:30 p.m. with everyone welcome.

I didn't make it to Winter Carnival as my family surprised me with a super 75th birthday party in the lounge which they had decorated beautifully. Saturday, January 29 was a great day and thanks to all who helped with the arrangements and to those who attended or sent or brought gifts and cards. Special thanks to my pal Jean, this was really a wonderful surprise!

Now and again we light a fire in the lounge at "The Terrace" and just sat around for a chat or have a meeting like we did last Tuesday. It is so nice at this time of year to enjoy a fire.

Around the County Town columnist Jeanne Sears was the guest of honour at a surprise party January 29. Family and friends gathered at the Staunworth Terrace common room to help mark her 75th birthday. Daughter Carolyn Leaman presented Jeanne with a cake.

AT REST

MILLER, Dr. Bob
On January 8, 1994, Dr. Bob Miller of Hampton, Ontario died in the Oshawa General Hospital after unexpected complications from pancreatic cancer.
Bob was a long time cottager/camper on Mountain Lake. Their cottage was one of the first to be built here back in 1935. As a boy, Bob attended Camp Onondaga outside Minden where he developed a love for outdoor activities and wildlife.
Dr. Miller was a busy obstetrician in Oshawa, but found time to pursue his interests - sailing, jogging, whitewater canoeing (including Coppermine, Madawaska and Petawawa rivers), skiing and yearly Algonquin Park canoe trips.
Bob will be sadly missed, not only by his family, but by his long-time friends, Dr. Bill Grant and Betty Grant (cottagers on Mountain Lake) and Dr. Joan Grant and Dan Boisvert of Minden.
